Senegal, You Can Travel And Help Africa

Did you know Senegal?

Senegal is a country located on the Atlantic coast of Africa. Has roughly 13 million inhabitants and is ranked 144 out of 169 nations in the U.N.O. Human development ranking. The survival expectancy when born, of the Senegalese population is 56 years, 25 years less than the Spanish population. Its per capita income is 60 Eurodollars each month, 35 times lower than the one in Spain. There are a large amount of folk wanting to help the Senegal, maybe, because they have fallen crazy about its gorgeous landscapes.

Its wonderful beaches found along its coastline, regularly kilometers and miles long. But above all else , with the people, Senegal's greatest asset. Especially friendly and welcoming people, they're fantastic persons. Not surprisingly Senegal is sometimes known as "Teranga's" country, meaning "hospitality country".

NGO's and Senegal

That is the reason why a lot of NGOs are currently working in Senegal. But NGOs wotking in Africa's should pay attention to three elemental principles: First, to tyr to get an almost complete lack of executive costs. All of the raised money should be devoted to the projects. The bureaucratic tasks should be undertaken on a voluntary basis by members of the NGO.

Second, a total participation with local shareholders should exist. No project should be undertaken without prior approval from Senegal's authorities nor without the explicit support of the populace, which should take full responsibility, bring his work and, so far as possible , their own resources.

What can you do for this country?

We stress the importance of the sturdiness of the projects. Nobody wants to see orchards, farms and schools to be abandoned,letting the population in a same or worse situation than before. Digital Marketing helps as well , and new technologies are giving a new tool for development.

So it shouldn't be undertaken any college, or any medical care facility, not ensuring before that it'll have his teacher, or nurse, or doctor. And in the case of orchards and farms, part of the production should be devoted to the sale. So Senegalese folks can have the means to buy implements and tools and seeds -of course- for the next crop.

Yakaar Africa is a non profit organisation that works in progress projects for Africa like ONG Senegal .
